

International Law Talk Podcast: The Fragmentation of EU Merger Control with Oliver Bretz

Kluwer Competition Law Blog
February 4, 2021

Lena Hornkohl (Deputy Editor) (Max Planck Institute Luxembourg for Procedural Law, Luxembourg)

Please refer to this post as: Lena Hornkohl (Deputy Editor), 'International Law Talk Podcast: The Fragmentation of EU Merger Control with Oliver Bretz', Kluwer Competition Law Blog, February 4 2021, <http://competitionlawblog.kluwercompetitionlaw.com/2021/02/04/international-law-talk-podcast-the-fragmentation-of-eu-merger-control-with-oliver-bretz/>

We are continuing with our competition law issues of the International Law Talk Podcast.

Two weeks ago, I talked to Oliver Bretz, founding partner at Euclid Law and a merger expert, about the fragmentation of EU merger control. We focused particularly on the changes in the EU one-stop-systems through Brexit, the increasing use of EU Foreign Direct Investment screenings, the White Paper on Foreign subsidies and the recent proposal of Commissioner Vestager to increasingly use the so-called Dutch clause.

Listen to the whole discussion here.

Moreover, available on Kluwer Competition Law through an exclusive partnership with Granville Knowledge Management, Merger Thresholds Monitor provides dynamically updated and actively edited merger control information to competition lawyers. You can now easily get answers to your merger control questions or compare information across jurisdictions, either by browsing or searching Kluwer Competition Law. Learn more about the Merger Thresholds Monitor.